Dear Governor Kasich, President Niehaus, and Speaker Batchelder:

On behalf of the members of the Ohio Tax Credit Authority, I am pleased to present the Job Creation Tax Credit Program Annual Report for calendar year 2011. Under the Ohio Revised Code Section 122.17, the Office of Strategic Business Investments, Grants and Tax Incentives Section in the Ohio Development Services Agency prepares this annual report containing the following: (1) various data analyses conducted of tax credit activity since the program's inception in 1993; (2) a listing and description of all tax credit projects approved by the Tax Credit Authority during 2011; (3) a report detailing the status of all projects which have a fully executed agreement; and (4) a report describing all projects that the Tax Credit Authority took enforcement action upon during calendar year 2011.

The Tax Credit Authority operates as a statutorily created board and is comprised of five members. They include the Director of the Ohio Department of Development (now Director of the Ohio Development Services Agency) and four other members appointed as follows: the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives each shall appoint one member who shall be a specialist in economic development, and the Governor shall also appoint a member who is a specialist in taxation. With the assistance of Ohio Development Services Agency professional staff, the Tax Credit Authority reviews and makes determinations on applications for Job Creation Tax Credit Program assistance submitted by companies proposing to create new income tax revenue in the state. Once a proposed project is determined eligible for tax credits, the Tax Credit Authority may award benefit levels contingent upon the scope of that project. Participating companies can generally receive refundable tax credits of up to 75 percent of Ohio income taxes withheld from eligible new employees for a term of up to 15 years.

As evidenced by this report, the Job Creation Tax Credit Program has distributed refundable tax credit assistance to a substantial number of business expansion and new location projects in Ohio. As of December 31, 2011, 2,413 economic development projects have received approval for tax credit assistance, of which 776 remain active and within the tax credit term. In 2011, the Tax Credit Authority approved 181 projects, securing commitments from companies to create a total of 18,214 new jobs and retain 23,968 positions in the state of Ohio.

In addition to its unique refundable nature, the Job Creation Tax Credit Program is significant for its ability to protect the state's investment in business start-up and expansion activities. Given that it is a performance-based program, tax credit agreements are often modified by the Tax Credit Authority if the projects fail to materialize or comply with programmatic guidelines. These modifications include: the reduction of the rate and/or term of the tax credit, cancellation, termination, or termination with a clawback of previously issued tax credit amounts.

The data and analyses contained in this report illustrate the substantial impact of the Job Creation Tax Credit Program on spurring job growth in the state during 2011. As you review the details of the report, I believe the true economic impact of the program and its reach across the state will become evident.

Sincerely,

Christiane Schmenk
Director, Ohio Development Services Agency

Executive Summary

The Director is pleased to present the 2011 Job Creation Tax Credit (JCTC) Annual Report. The JCTC Program serves as one of the state of Ohio's flagship economic development programs for the creation of jobs in the state. In 2011, the Ohio Tax Credit Authority (Authority), together with the Ohio Department of Development (Development), now known as Development Services Agency, accomplished the following in the goal of retaining and attracting jobs to the state of Ohio:

1. For calendar year 2011:

- The number of new projects approved by the Authority totaled 181 projects, the same number of projects approved by the Authority in 2010.
- The number of new full-time jobs committed in conjunction with these projects totaled 18,214, an increase of almost 8 percent from the commitments in 2010.
- The weighted average hourly wage commitment reached $20.63 per hour, a slight decrease (2.9 percent) from last year's weighted average hourly wage of $21.14.

2. After a project is approved by the Authority, the program staff at Development oversees the continued administration of the JCTC program.

- In 2011, 151 taxpayers executed tax credit agreements with the Authority. These agreements included commitments to create at least 23,566 new full-time jobs and invest more than $2.3 billion in fixed assets at various project sites throughout the state of Ohio.
- Also in 2011, the Authority issued 448 tax credit certificates in the amount of more than $72.2 million to taxpayer participants in the program.

3. Program staff monitors every project to ensure compliance in order to leverage the program most effectively. Tax credit projects that are not meeting their commitment thresholds are reviewed by the Authority, which may take action to modify the existing agreement.

- The Authority took non-compliance action on a total of 51 projects during 2011.
- The Authority modified the rate and/or term of 13 previously approved projects due to a failure to comply with the specified commitments in their agreements.
- In 2011, three companies were ordered to pay back all or a portion of their previously issued tax credits, as they ceased operations at the project site.

¹ Historical project number data may differ from that previously reported by the Ohio Department of Development (now known as Ohio Development Services Agency). The Ohio Development Services Agency has undertaken a detailed review of the Job Creation Tax Credit program database, comparing current information with the historical meeting minutes and previous annual reports, to provide the most accurate representation of the program portfolio.

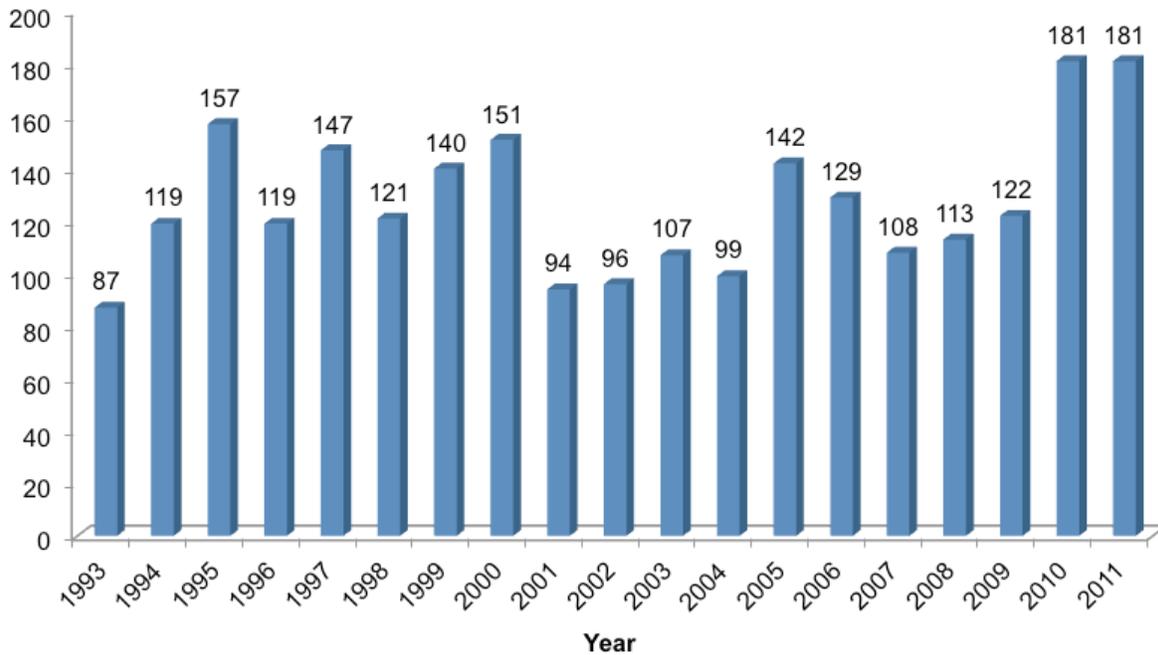

Annual Project Comparisons

The Job Creation Tax Credit (JCTC) program, one of the state of Ohio’s flagship economic development tools, completed its 19th year in 2011. The volume of program activity is best measured both by the total number of projects approved since the program’s inception in 1993 (2,413 through December 31, 2011) as well as the values of annual tax credits issued by the Authority to eligible taxpayers (more than $72.2 million in refundable tax credits issued in 2011 alone).

In 2011, the Authority approved 181 projects for assistance, the same number of projects approved in 2010. Within these projects are commitments to create a total of 18,214 new full-time jobs and retain 23,968 existing full time positions. Additionally, more than $2.5 billion in new fixed asset investment commitments were made in conjunction with these projects.

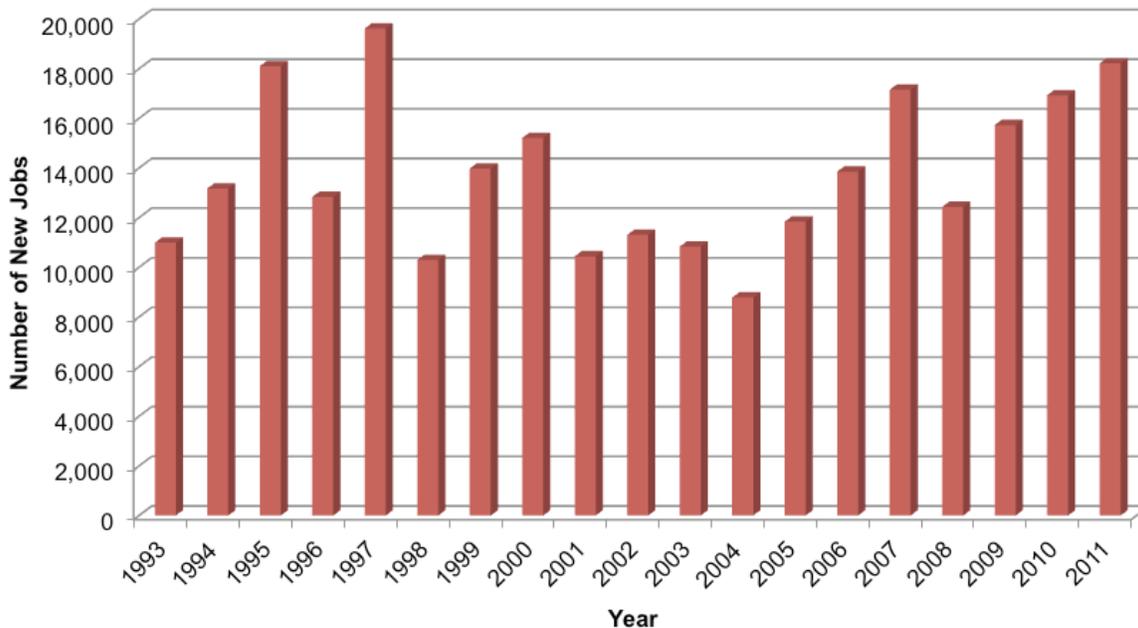

As in 2010, the number of projects approved in 2011 represents the largest volume of approvals in a calendar year. In fact, the 181 new projects approved in 2011 is the largest approval threshold by a significant amount – almost 16 percent greater than the second largest new project approval value of 157, which occurred in 1995. Also important to note is the volume of new annual approvals only exceeded 150 four times during the program’s life: in 1995 (157), in 2000 (154) and in 2010 and 2011 (181). The volume of project approvals per year is illustrated in the figure below.

The aggregate new job commitment for the projects approved in calendar year 2011 illustrates that this year was also a noteworthy one in this category. The commitment level for new jobs increased from 16,931 in 2010 to 18,214 in 2011, an increase of more than 7 percent. When comparing the calendar year 2011 new job value against the aggregate new job commitments from previous years, it can be seen that the 2011 level is the second largest commitment level since the program began, with the largest annual new job commitment occurring 14 years ago, in 1997. The aggregate new job commitments for each of the program's years are shown below.

When considering the average number of new jobs committed per project per calendar year, a different pattern emerges. As noted below in Table 2, the average number of new jobs committed per project in calendar year 2011 did experience an increase from the 2010 value. However, the average for 2011 is still one of the smaller calculated averages in the history of the program. It is important to reiterate that 2011 represents the largest number of projects approved by the Authority in a calendar year and the second largest number of total new jobs committed for a given year. So, while the “average” project was smaller than many of the previous years, there were far more total projects in 2011 and thus a larger overall aggregate new job commitment.

Table 2: Average Number of New jobs Committed by Calendar Year, 1993-2011

Calendar Year	Average Number of New Jobs Committed Per Project
1993	126.3

2011	100.6

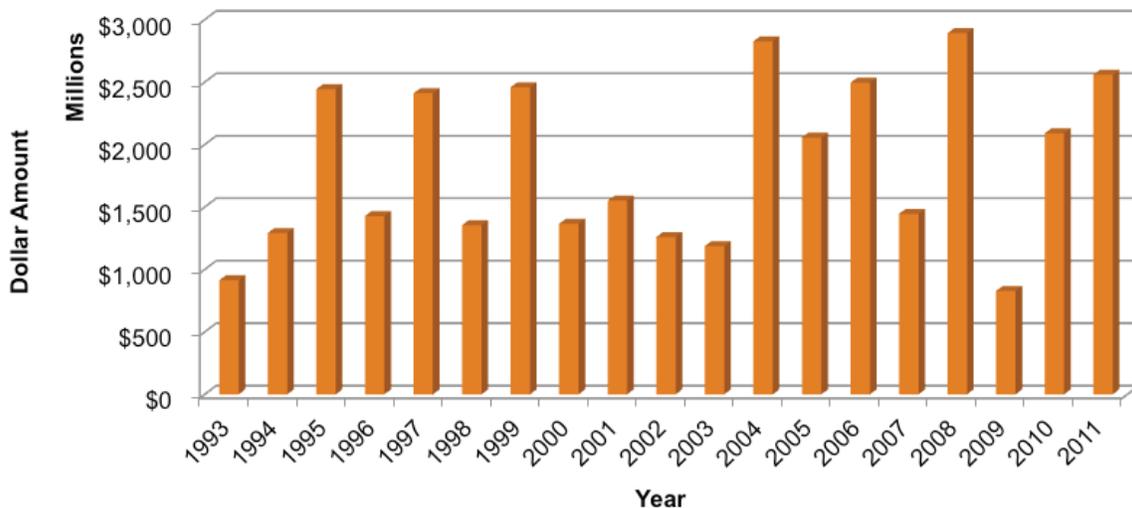

For the purpose of the JCTC program, a “retained employee” is defined as a full-time employee employed in the project at the project location on the date the Authority approves the project for a tax credit in a public meeting. The retained positions commitment made in conjunction with the projects approved in 2011 rose from 19,163 in 2010 to 24,168 in 2011, an increase of more than 26 percent. This annual retained commitment in 2011 is the fifth largest retention commitment over the life of the program. Additionally, in 2011, 130 of the 181 projects approved by the Authority (more than 71 percent) included a retention component. The figure below represents the annual committed retained positions over the life of the program.

Fixed asset investment commitments made in conjunction with the approved projects for 2011 reached more than $2.5 billion, the third largest annual commitment in the history of the JCTC program and only the third time in the program’s history that the commitment has exceeded $2.5 billion. This amount represents a 22.4 percent increase over the commitment level in 2010, a noteworthy increase considering the 2010 investment commitment is significant in its own right as one of the few annual commitments that exceeded the $2 billion mark. Calendar year 2011 represents the second consecutive year the annual fixed asset investment commitments have increased (2009-2010 and 2010-2011). This is the first time the program has experienced a consecutive two-year increase since the beginning of the program (1993-1994 and 1994-1995). Figure 4 below illustrates the historical fixed asset investment commitments.

The weighted average wage rate is calculated by (1) multiplying, for each approved project, the number of committed new jobs by the committed average hourly wage, (2) aggregating those calculated project values for the calendar year, and (3) dividing that aggregate number by the number of total annual new jobs committed for the year. Rather than just calculating a straight “average” (the wage rate per project divided by the number of projects), this weighted calculation gives more value to wages associated with a larger job creation commitment. In 2011, this weighted average hourly rate calculated to $20.63, and represents a slight decrease (less than 3 percent) from 2010’s calculated value of $21.24. Nonetheless, the value for 2010 is the fourth highest calculated weighted average hourly wage since the program’s inception, and one of only four calculated wage rates that have exceeded $20 per hour. The calculations for each year are documented below in Figure 5.

In the analysis of the commitments made in conjunction with the tax credit projects over the life of the program, the annual dollar values of the fixed asset investment commitments and weighted average hourly wage rate commitments have been adjusted, using the consumer price index, to represent each year’s values in 2011 dollars. By doing this, the annual aggregate commitments can be translated and compared by a single reference point to measure the true impact years of the program.

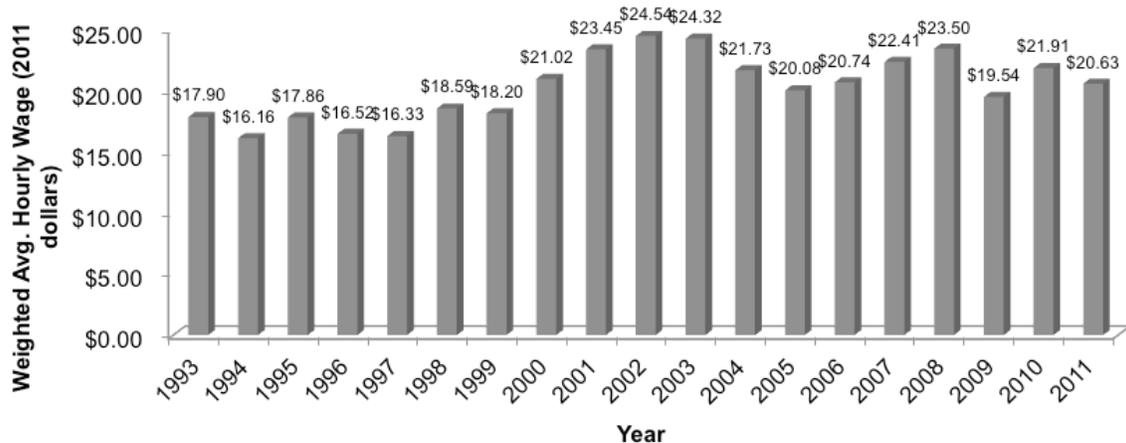

Figure 6 below graphically represents the fixed asset commitments considered in 2011 dollars. When considering the annual totals, it can be determined that calendar year 1995 represents the largest annual aggregate commitment during the program’s 19-year lifespan. Looking at the fixed asset commitments over the tenure of the program, it becomes evident that there is no consistent trend for investment level, although the program has experienced a year-over-year increase in investment since 2009. The fixed asset commitment for calendar year 2011, when compared to the other years’ converted values, is the seventh largest commitment made since the program’s inception in 1993.

In a review of the annual weighted average hourly wage rates over the last decade represented in 2011 dollars, a trend did emerge. Beginning in calendar year 2000, all of the rates but one, calculated to more than $20 per hour (the lone exception, in 2009, calculated to $19.54). This examination demonstrates that the projects approved by the Authority in recent years have consistently included a commitment to provide a meaningful, livable wage for the new employment positions. Figure 7 below details the historical average hourly wages since the program’s commencement, expressed in 2011 dollars.

Monthly Approval Analysis

The Authority convenes monthly to review and approve complete applications for proposed projects. These projects must meet minimum thresholds to be considered for approval, including a job creation requirement and a minimum payroll increase in association with new jobs. The Authority renders final determinations of proposed and existing JCTC projects. The monthly meeting agenda, including the applicant taxpayers’ names and proposed project locations, are made public prior to the meeting. Note the Authority combines the November/December meeting into one, early December meeting.

Figure 8, appearing below, illustrates the monthly average of projects approved by the Authority. Specifically, the graph shows the number of approved projects in calendar year 2011 – across months – with the average number of projects approved each month during the previous 18 year period.

During the 2011 meetings, the Authority exceeded its average approval activity in every month, save one (October) when it tied the previous years’ average. This figure once again illustrates what a significant year 2011 was for project approvals for the JCTC program.

Status of Approved Projects

The JCTC program is marked by a volume of activity including the preparation of projects for consideration by the Authority, the execution of tax credit agreements, the monitoring of annual progress reports, and the issuance of tax credit certificates. The portfolio of the program is in a constant state of fluidity, as new projects are included in the program, existing projects complete their tax credit terms or are aged out of the program as they complete their requirements, or projects are canceled or terminated from the program by the Authority.

Table 3, which follows, illustrates the current status of the projects that have been approved by the Authority since the inception of the program. The information depicts the status of projects (represented in percentages), delineated by their calendar year approval. The categories utilized in the administration of the program are defined as:

Active: The project has been approved by the Authority and is within its tax credit term period.

Reporting: The project has completed its tax credit term, is no longer receiving benefit, but is filing annual reports for the post term period.

Completed: The project has completed all necessary reporting.

Canceled: The project has been removed from the program per the taxpayer’s request. Note that in prior years this could occur at any time during the taxpayer’s credit term but currently cancellations only occur prior to the execution of the Tax Credit Agreement.

Terminated Without Clawback: The project has been removed from the program by action of the Authority without financial recourse.

Terminated With Clawback or Settlement: The project has been removed from the program by action of the Authority with financial recourse.

Given the age of the JCTC program (19 years) and the length of tax credit terms (originally limited to 10 years, the program was changed in 2003 to allow terms as long as 15 years), the program is now experiencing a significant number of projects that are completing tax credit terms. In fact, all projects entered into from calendar years 1993 through 1996 that are still submitting annual reports (i.e. not previously canceled or terminated) have completed their tax credit terms and are in the post-term “Reporting” phase.

Another element demonstrated by this table is the significance the Authority places upon program compliance with taxpayers’ project commitments. The program’s level of attrition is strong evidence of the importance assigned by the Authority to its oversight function. The performance of each project is monitored on an annual basis through an annual progress report. Staff then performs a review on every submitted annual report to ensure project compliance. Those projects failing to attain their employment, wage or investment commitment levels are subject to either an amendment of their tax credit rate and/or term or removal from the program. For those projects approved by the Authority since 1993, almost 24 percent have been canceled from the program and more than 23 percent of have been formally terminated by the Authority for failure to meet program and agreement commitments. Of these terminations enacted by the Authority, 15 percent included either a clawback of some or all of the previously issued tax credit dollars or a settlement payment agreement between the company and the Authority.

Issued Tax Credit Certificates

The JCTC program statute mandates participating taxpayers to annually report project information to Development, including the number of new employees and the income tax withholdings for those employees for the year. Complete annual reports must be submitted to Development by March 1 each year with the Office of Strategic Business Investments, Grants and Tax Incentives Section audit staff recording and reviewing the data provided. The total number and aggregate dollar amount of certificates issued in a year are dependent on the number of properly filed annual reports. Annual report deficiencies and adjustments to project scopes may prohibit a certificate from being issued in the calendar year in which its report is filed. Therefore, the values for calendar year 2011 include certificates from multiple reporting years (both current and previous).

The tax credit is structured as a performance-based program, meaning that the tax credit certificate for a particular project is issued as long as the participating taxpayer (or taxpayers) associated with that project satisfies the commitment to create jobs and otherwise remain in good standing (i.e. remain at the project site, and remain in compliance with all other terms of the tax credit agreement).

The intent of any economic development incentive is to drive economic growth through job creation. Economic growth can be measured in two ways: (1) the number of jobs created and (2) the increased income tax revenue. Table 4 and Table 5 shown following illustrate the increase in income tax revenue and net benefit to the state of Ohio as a result of the JCTC program. Since 1995, when the first tax credit certificates were issued, the state of Ohio has realized almost $300.7 million in additional withholding revenue as a direct result of the JCTC program. In addition, once projects complete their tax credit period and enter into the “reporting” phase of the program, the state of Ohio receives the full value of the commercial activity tax and withholdings generated as a result of the project.

An analysis of certificates issued during calendar year 2011 revealed a significant decrease in the number of certificates issued from the previous year – 91 less than 2010 (a 16.8 percent decrease). However, even with the decrease from the previous year, the number of tax credit certificates issued in 2011 was the third highest volume issued in a calendar year over the life of the program (only 2010 and 2008 issued more certificates). The total value of issued certificates in 2011 increased over 2010's amount by less than 1 percent, but the average certificate value for calendar year 2011 experienced a significant increase from the 2010 value by 21 percent.

Section B: Projects Approved by the Ohio Tax Credit Authority during Calendar Year 2011

The Authority is responsible for approving tax credit benefit rates and terms based upon a proposed project's scope and viability. Care is taken in preparing projects for review given the long-term relationship to be forged between the Authority and participating taxpayers; tax credits are awarded on the conditions that a taxpayer remain at its project location and report to Development for a period that could be up to 18 years.

This section provides information based on those commitments; actual performance is reported in later years following the execution of a tax credit contract between the Authority and each taxpayer.

It is important to note that these projects and the issuance of their tax credit certificates are managed by the JCTC law and administrative rules that are a result of 2009's H.B. 1. The JCTC program utilizes the establishment of gross payroll thresholds for new employment qualification, rather than the former new, full-time employee average hourly wage threshold.

Economic benefits to the state of Ohio as a result of project approval activity in calendar year 2011 include the following:

- Approval by the Authority of tax credits for 181 projects;
- Planned fixed asset investment of more than $2.5 billion in communities across the state; and
- Commitments to create 18,214 new positions within three years of project approval and retain 23,968 existing full-time positions.

Section C: Projects with Tax Credit Agreements Executed With the Ohio Tax Credit Authority during Calendar Year 2011

Pursuant to Ohio Revised Code 122.17(C), the Authority is authorized to enter into tax credit agreements with participating taxpayers, provided all of the following: (1) the taxpayer's project will increase payroll and income tax revenue; (2) the taxpayer's project is economically sound and will benefit the people of the state of Ohio by increasing opportunities for employment and strengthening the economy of this state; and (3) receipt of tax credit assistance is a major factor in the taxpayer's decision to go forward with its respective project.

This section includes information related to taxpayers that entered into tax credit agreements with the Authority during calendar year 2011. These executed agreements represent two populations: (1) taxpayers that are entering into their initial agreement, and (2) taxpayers that are executing new agreements due to amendments being made to their previous agreements.

Economic benefits to the state of Ohio associated with projects whose tax credit agreements were fully executed during calendar year 2011 include the following:

- Commitments by taxpayers to undertake 216 economic development projects throughout the state;
- Taxpayer commitments to create 20,166 new jobs within three years of project approval by the Authority, and retain 34,086 full-time positions; and
- Fixed Asset investment commitments totaling more than $3.7 billion across the state.

Section D: Status of Projects with Executed Job Creation Tax Credit Agreements

Section D addresses the status of projects that have executed tax credit agreements with the Authority. Information provided pertains to all approved projects with tax credit agreements executed from 1993 through December 31, 2011.

The table denotes committed job creation, average hourly wage, and fixed asset investment; the tax credit rate and term included in the original tax credit agreement, and the current status of each project (as of September 12, 2012¹). The execution dates indicated for each of the projects denotes the most recent signature date for the agreement, and may represent either the original agreement or any subsequent agreement amendment executed between the parties.

The following status categories are included:

- Executed: The project is currently within its tax credit term, filing annual reports, and receiving benefits.
- Reporting: The project has completed its tax credit term and is no longer receiving benefit, but is being required to report for the post-term period
- Closed: The project has completed all necessary reporting
- Termination without Clawback: The project was formally removed from the program by action of the Authority without financial recourse
- Termination with Clawback: The project was formally removed from the program by action of the Authority with financial recourse.

The table also presents annual performance of each project. This performance data is obtained from the most recently submitted annual report. It is important to note that, for projects that are closed or have been terminated, the presented annual report data may be several years old. Furthermore, some projects do not have annual report data as they have executed an agreement but have not yet submitted an annual report due to their projects' tax credit start date.

The data presented in this table shows the success of the JCTC in creating and retaining jobs. The program has been successful in assisting in the creation of more than 132,111 new jobs and retention of more than 206,565 positions. Moreover, it has leveraged more than $27.4 billion in fixed asset investment.

Section E: Enforcement Actions Taken By the Tax Credit Authority in Calendar Year 2011 against Projects Approved Between Calendar Year 1993 – 2011

This section contains information regarding enforcement actions taken by the Authority in calendar year 2011 against taxpayers that did not meet the requirements specified in their tax credit agreements. The information provided pertains to all projects approved between the years 1993 through December 31, 2011.

The Authority may consider four types of enforcement action for a taxpayer failing to comply with its JCTC Agreement: (1) cancel the project, (2) amend the benefit of the tax credit by reducing the rate and/or term of the tax credit, (3) terminate the project without a clawback, or (4) terminate the project and administer a clawback requiring the beneficiary to refund a certain percentage of tax credit previously received through the JCTC program.

The action taken by the Authority is determined depending on the non-compliance circumstance. Cancellations apply to projects without executed contracts that are being eliminated from the program (Note: in prior years, this term was also utilized for situations when the taxpayer wished to withdraw from the program or if a project fell below the minimum eligibility requirements). Amending the benefit level(s) and termination without clawback are actions taken against taxpayers with executed contracts that have failed to meet the commitments set forth in the tax credit agreement. The final action, termination with clawback, is taken against taxpayers that cease operations at their designated project site.

Pursuant to Ohio Revised Code 122.17(K), when a taxpayer ceases operations at its defined project location, the Authority will initiate a three step clawback process. The first step is to send notice to the taxpayer of pending termination with clawback. The second step is a "First Reading" at the Authority's monthly meeting. At this time, the Authority reviews the project and considers, among other factors, the effect of market conditions on the taxpayer's project and whether the taxpayer continues to maintain other operations in the state of Ohio. The third procedural step, known as the "Second Reading", occurs at the Authority's subsequent monthly meeting, and includes a final determination on a clawback percentage to be applied to prior certificates issued to the taxpayer.

As illustrated in the following table, in 2011, the Authority implemented 51 enforcement actions against taxpayers participating in the JCTC program. Of these, 17 projects were canceled, 13 agreements had a reduction in rate and/or term of the JCTC, 18 agreements were terminated without clawback, and three agreements were terminated with a clawback provision. Overall, the Authority saw a reduction in its enforcement actions for calendar year 2011. During the 2011 calendar year, each of the categories experienced a decreased when compared to the 2010 enforcement volumes. Note that the clawback percentage for each individual action is listed in the subsequent table.
